Headline:
Mainly dry with sunny spells. Cloud increasing later.

Today:
Bright start with a few light showers around but these soon dying out to leave much of the day dry with sunny spells. However cloud is expected to increase from the west later this afternoon. Westerly winds easing. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Tonight:
Some late sunny spells, mainly to the east of Glasgow, otherwise a rather cloudy evening and night with Argyll seeing some patchy light rain and drizzle. Mainly light winds. Minimum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Sunday:
Argyll remains rather cloudy but any rain or drizzle should soon die out. Otherwise bright with some warm sunny spells developing. Risk of a few heavy evening showers in south. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Cloud and rain soon clearing Monday then sunny spells and isolated showers. Bright morning Tuesday but cloudier afternoon with, especially Argyll, patchy rain. Early rain or showers Wednesday, brighter later.
